

How to submit an article to an EPJ D Topical Issue :

EPJ D Topical Issue: High Field QED Physics

From the Call for Papers: <https://www.epj.org/open-calls-for-papers/100-epj-d/2236-epjd-topical-issue-high-field-qed-physics>

...These general topics may be interpreted in the broadest sense, and the issue is open to everyone working in related fields, including those focused on ultra-intense lasers or high energy particle physics and laboratory astrophysics. The topical issue is now open for submission of contributions. Original research papers, review articles, and white paper/roadmap articles are all welcomed. We invite contributors to communicate their intention to submit manuscripts for this Topical Issue to the Guest Editors as soon as possible. Please provide the tentative title of the paper and a short abstract. The full manuscripts should be submitted before the deadline directly to the EPJD Editorial Office at <https://www.editorialmanager.com/epjd/>

Authors should click on the above hyperlink or type the url into their web browser.

Please upload your manuscript file/s now.

For first (initial) submissions, we require a single manuscript file as a minimum. While full source files for LaTeX submissions are encouraged, we understand that you may prefer to submit only a PDF at this stage.

This journal has a policy concerning the deposit of any data that supports research findings, in a public repository. Please see further guidance and editorial policy compliance requirements and options, specific to this journal, at the button 'Instructions For Authors', in the header bar.

This journal has a policy requiring a statement explaining if, how and where supporting data can be accessed. You can provide links to any supporting data via the 'Supporting Data' item type, and these will be available to reviewers. Please refer to the Instructions for Authors on the journal website for more details and templates for standard availability statements.

In case of any issues, please use the 'Contact Us' link.
